Quick and simple encryption tool. Using the appropriate macro you can encrypt and decrypt any text with one of the available algorithms (many more can be added) from your keyboard in just a few seconds. Perks of a portable app The portable app runs from a flash drive, so you can quickly perform an encryption without waiting for a download. It doesn't make any changes to system registry entries, and is compatible with all Windows versions. Algorithms and text processing You can encrypt messages using a variety of algorithms, you can even use many of them at once. One negative aspect to the whole process is the lack of support for existing files. Also, the application supports the use of existing files, but those files will need to be copied to the destination folder first. In conclusion Simple and easy to use encryption tool that will help you encrypt any text for use with your encrypted SMS messages. KeyMacro Description: Quick and simple encryption tool.
